The Year in Review

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2012, 92 individuals applied to the Intramural Loan Repayment Programs (LRPs) in General Research, AIDS Research, Clinical Research for Individuals from Disadvantaged Backgrounds, and General Research for Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) Fellows. Of those 92 applications, 5 were withdrawn because the applicants subsequently terminated their employment with NIH. Eighty seven applications were reviewed and 84 applications were awarded contracts totaling $4,308,409. The combined (new and renewal applicants) success rate for the Intramural LRPs was 97 percent.

The NIH will repay up to $35,000 per year of outstanding educational debt for the General, AIDS, and Clinical Research for Individuals from Disadvantaged Backgrounds and up to $17,000 per year for the ACGME LRP. In return, participants must sign a contract agreeing to conduct appropriately qualified research activities as NIH employees for a minimum of two years for the AIDS and Clinical Research (Disadvantaged Background) LRPs, or three years for the General or ACGME LRPs.

The Intramural General Research LRP received 72 percent of all applications.

New applicants (those not previously funded) constituted 44 percent of all applications while renewal applicants (those previously funded) comprised 56 percent of all applicants. Success rates for new and renewal applicants were 97 and 96 percent, respectively.

The LRPs are open to health professionals with doctoral level, P.A., B.S.N. or A.D.N. degrees and varying levels of experience. Most new FY 2012 awardees are beginning their careers, with 70 percent having received their qualifying degrees within the last five years and 27 percent within the past six to ten years.

Physician doctorates (including dual physician doctorates, for example, MD/PhD degrees) comprised 81 percent of the awards, while those with academic doctoral level degrees received 19 percent of the total awards.

Seventy-eight percent of the new awardees had educational debt greater than $50,000, with 24 percent having debt levels greater than $200,000.

Women received 51 (61%) of the 84 LRP awards. Black/African American applicants received 2 (2%) awards. Asian Americans received 8 (10%) awards, and Hispanic Americans received 4 (5%) awards.

The Four Intramural Loan Repayment Programs

AIDS Research LRP:

In November 1988, Public Law (P.L.) 100-607 introduced Section 487A of the Public Health Service (PHS) Act (42 USC 288-1), authorizing the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to establish a program of educational loan repayment to attract additional health professionals into Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS) research. The mission of the NIH AIDS Research Loan Repayment Program (AIDS-LRP) is to attract highly qualified physicians, nurses, and scientists to HIV/AIDS research by countering the growing economic disincentives to embark on biomedical research careers.

General Research LRP:

In June 1993, P.L. 103-43 authorized Section 487C (42 USC 288-3), which established a program of educational loan repayment to attract highly qualified health professionals, particularly physicians, to conduct research at the NIH. The mission of the General Research Loan Repayment Program is to attract talented researchers to public service as employees of the NIH using loan repayment as an economic incentive. Generally, those at a tenure track or above level are given priority for funding of LRP awards.

General Research LRP for ACGME Fellows:

General Research LRP for ACGME Fellows provides $17,000 per year in loan repayment (plus tax reimbursement) and is currently available to fellows offered employment by the NIH in subspecialty and residency training programs accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME). Qualifying fellows must hold a three-year appointment.

Clinical Research LRP for Individuals from Disadvantaged Background:

Clinical research is patient-oriented research that is conducted with human subjects or research on the causes and consequences of disease in human populations involving material of human origin for which the investigator or his/her colleague directly interacts with human subjects in an outpatient or inpatient setting to clarify a problem in human physiology; pathophysiology or disease; epidemiologic or behavioral studies; outcomes research or health services research; or developing new technologies, therapeutic interventions, or clinical trials. The NIH Clinical Research Loan Repayment Program's mission is to recruit highly qualified health professionals from disadvantaged backgrounds to serve as clinical researchers, using loan repayment as an economic incentive.

Applications, Awards, and Success Rates By Program

In FY 2012, the NIH reviewed 87* applications. 44 percent of the applications were from new applicants. 97 percent of all applicants were awarded contracts.

* NIH received 92 applications but 5 of those individuals were not eligible due to their planned departure from NIH. Therefore 87 were reviewed by the Scientific Review Committee.

3 of the remaining 87 were not awarded contracts for reasons listed below.
